Rex Boice donates $20,000 for park

Park funding complete work starting in spring

Haliburton - Rex Boice, a well known Haliburton resident and businessman, has donated $20,000 to make up the entire public share of funds to build a park north of the CNR tracks.

Mr. Boice's donation will be coupled with $60,000 from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation to build the park.

Murray Fearrey, Reeve of Dysart et al, said, "On behalf of the municipality we are particularly gratified." He noted that Mr. Boice came forward and said he wanted to make a donation after a story appeared in The Haliburton County Echo last June.

Reeve Fearrey said that a plaque will likely be erected at the park in honor of Mr. Boice and he will be listed as a founder.

The reeve said that now that funding has been finalized he would expect that development of the park will start in the spring and continue through until summer in 1978.

Reeve Fearrey said that the park has been thought of by the municipal council for some time in order to complete the proposal for Rotary Beach.

The park, which will create a recreational area from the public docks to Rotary Beach, has a number of proposals for activity areas. In the drawing of the park the proposals are for a shuffleboard, band shell, a foot bridge across the river, baseball diamond and athletic fields and a picnic area.

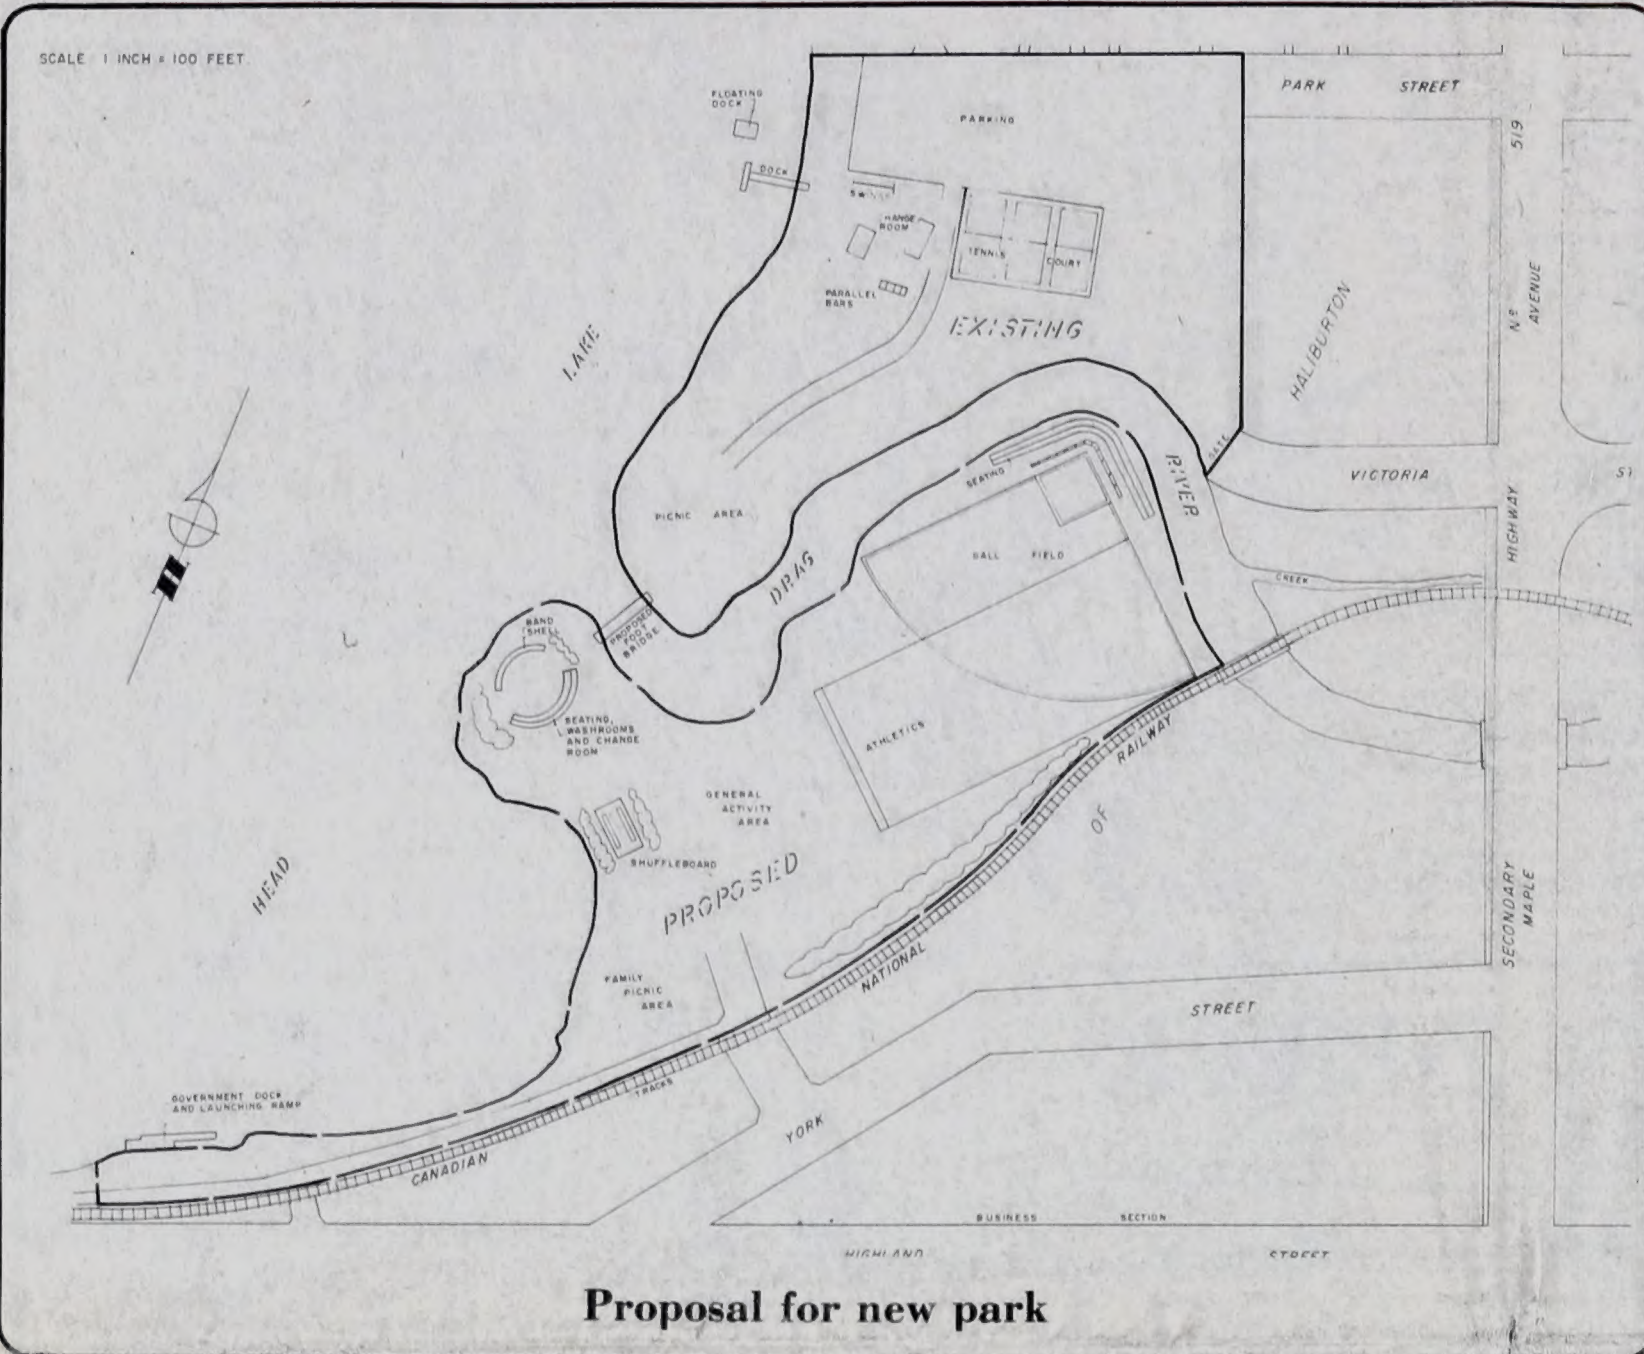

Reeve Fearrey said when the plans for the park were announced in June, there were also some plans for improvements to the Rotary Beach area.

Rex Boice is a lifelong Haliburton resident and has operated Boice Motors, selling International Harvester equipment in the area for many years.

Plans to build a new park in Haliburton, north of the CNR tracks, took a big step forward last week when Rex Boice pledged up to $20,000 as the public's share of the funds needed. The rest of the funding will come from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation and Wintario. Wayne Wood (left), Clerk of Dysart et al, and Murray Fearrey (right), Reeve of the municipality, accepted the commitment from Mr. Boice.

Proposal for new park

Arena fund at the top

Haliburton - The committee for community improvement has announced that it has reached its objective in the arena renovation phase of its program. The objective of the arena renovations was $25,000 and coupled with funds from Wintario and the Ministry of Culture and Recreation, the money was used to make a number of repairs and improvements to the Dysart Community Centre.

"The committee for community improvement wish to thank all of the people who have helped us reach our objective in this phase of our program", a news release stated.

It went on to say, "While this was the initial thrust of this program other projects are underway, i.e. Lakefront Park and a new museum. Further details of these programs will be released in the next few weeks."

It is noted in the release that the committee will remain active and persons wishing to contribute to these future projects may do so.

County Council questions why Haliburton pointed out for acid pollution

Minden - Haliburton county council last week expressed its concern about acid and mercury pollution in area lakes and asked Ministry of Environment officials just why they read about the problems in the newspapers before they are told about them.

Dr. Tom Brydges, of the Ministry of Environment, was asked why Haliburton was singled out in the initial news release.

Dr. Brydges said that acid rain is not peculiar to the Haliburton Highland, but occurs from the southern United States to the Arctic.

He said that the problem in the Haliburton area is not the rain itself, but the Canadian Shields inability to absorb and buffer the effects of the acid.

Dr. Brydges said that the Ministries immediate concern is the precise identification of the source of Haliburton's acid and accurate estimates of the rate of acidic build-up in a particular lake.

The council was assured that the acid problem bears no threat to human health.

According to a news release from the Ministry of Natural Resources, "The Ontario Ministry of Environment has released the results of preliminary investigations into the effect of precipitation carrying elevated levels of acidity on lakes and rivers in south-central Ontario in an area east of Georgian Bay, south of Lake Nipissing, north of Lake Simcoe and west of the Ottawa River."

The study is part of an Ontario government program begun in 1975 to assess the impact of development in recreational areas. Preliminary data collected in the past 18 months indicate possible damage to the aquatic life in the study area from precipitation.

"Evidence indicates that acid precipitation poses no threat to human health but may have some adverse effect on soil and vegetation. It is possible for high levels of acidity in precipitation to make some lakes unfit for some forms of aquatic life, including fish," the release said.

It noted that while precipitation is normally slightly acidic due to carbon dioxide in the atmosphere, data from the study area show increased levels of acidity due mainly to airborne sulphur oxides.

Acid rainfall is a worldwide phenomenon and is wide spread in North America as a result of nitric and sulphur oxides, by-products of the combustion of most fossil-fuels and some smelting, reacting with the moisture in the atmosphere to form acid, the release explained.

Nurses settle for 8%

District Health Nurses have settled on contracts for both 1976 and 1977.

The salaries include a fully retroactive pay increase of eight per cent for 1976.

The salaries for 1976 range from $12,220 to $14,620 for registered nurses; $12,920 to $15,460 for public health nurses; and $13,640 to $16,180 for senior public health nurses.

The increase for 1977, also eight per cent, bring the rates to $12,891 to $15,292 for registered nurses; $13,630 to $16,170 for public health nurses and $14,335 to $16,925 for senior public health nurses.

The 1977 pay is 75 per cent retroactive.

"We might add here that we have commitments from both the Bank of Montreal and the Bank of Commerce in support of these programs," it was stated in the release.

Members of the committee are Joe Iles, Rotary Club; Paul Dawson, Haliburton Kinsmen; Murray Fearrey, Reeve Dysart et al; Scott LaRue, Rotary Club and Wayne B. Wood, clerk-administrator, Dysart et al.

Only 3 traffic accidents over week of Nov. 14-20

Minden - The Minden detachment of the OPP investigated 45 general occurrences and three motor vehicle collisions during the week of Nov. 14 to 20.

An accident Nov. 20 on Highway 35, north of Miner's Bay, resulted in two persons receiving minor injuries.

The OPP report that a car driven by Dale H. Insley, 18, of North Bay, was north-bound when it went out of control, striking a guide rail and rolling down the east side embankment.

There was $2,000 damage to the vehicle.

Injured and taken to Minden Hospital were Insley and Vance Doolan, 18, also of North Bay.

A single car crash on Highway 35, just north of the Gull River bridge, resulted in $450 damage to a car driven by June Holland, 29, of Minden.

The accident took place Nov. 18 at 9:10 a.m.

There was also $100 damage to three Ministry of Transportation and Communications' guide posts.

The OPP report that the vehicle struck the three posts on the west shoulder of the road.

Echo Christmas Fund for needy in the county

Christmas for many people in Haliburton County is a time of sadness and depression. Think of the father who has been laid off work and must explain to his son on Christmas morning that there just wasn't enough money to buy anything other than the essentials the family needs. Think of the mother who can't find the food to put a Christmas dinner together. Think of the child who wraps some of his old toys and puts them under the tree so that there will be a few more presents to go around for everyone.

The simple fact that it's Christmas becomes an unbearable burden, while to the rest of us it becomes a time to reflect on how fortunate we are and a time to share some of the abundance with which we have been blessed.

This year, in the midst of all the other worthwhile fund raising drives, The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder announces one more, The Echo Christmas Fund.

In announcing the fund, Haliburton County Echo publisher, John Zylstra, said that the fund would accept contributions on a year-round basis and that distribution of the proceeds to those in need, would be made during the Christmas season.

The purpose of the fund stated by Mr. Zylstra was "to raise monies so that food, gifts and/or money may be distributed to those in need in Haliburton County during the Christmas season and to work with existing organizations already involved in this endeavor."

Organization of The Echo Fund workers falls into three committees with specific areas of responsibility.

A disbursement committee, consisting of The Reverend Trevor Denny, of St. George's Anglican Church, Captain Douglas Barry of the Salvation

Army, Derrel Stamp of the Municipality of Dysart et al, and a member of the public health or nursing service, will deal directly and confidentially with dispersing the fund. Responsibilities include: determining the needs of the fund, determining the basis for distribution of the fund, and the actual distribution to individuals. These committee members have volunteered their time and expertise to the service of the fund.

The second committee of The Echo Christmas Fund will consist of management staff from The Haliburton County Echo who will be responsible for all promotional aspects of the fund, the actual fund raising, administration, and year to year continuity of the fund. The Echo has donated its management's time and all newspaper space required.

Volunteering his efforts as treasurer of the fund is Ron Hore, Manager of The Bank of Montreal, Haliburton.

An independent accountancy firm will be appointed to audit the fund on an annual basis and a full disclosure of the fund's receipts and disbursements, without revealing the identity of any of the recipients, will be made public annually.

Efforts are being made to have the fund registered as a charity for income tax deduction purposes. Contributors to the fund will be recognized weekly in the Haliburton County Echo and receipts will be issued for all contributions. Contributions can be made to: The Echo Christmas Fund, Box 360, Haliburton, Ontario, KOM 1S0.

In announcing the fund, Mr. Zylstra pointed out that The Echo would continue its support of all worthwhile community efforts but noted that, "at this particular time of year, how can we deny our neighbors in the county their personal needs? Certainly people must come first."

News from Extendicare

BY DR. O.W. ANDERSON

We learn that Mrs. Elizabeth McIntosh has left on a weeks holiday with family and friends. It will be nice for her to get a change from looking at our faces for a few days.

Mrs. Miriam Lewis is back on the job. She is the one that will stimulate more activity among us. It seems that we are lazier than is good for us. We are grateful to Mrs. Mary Currah who has been a regular volunteer worker, keeping our tea and coffee cups replenished while we are eating and she is getting her own meals too.

There seems to be more mystery thrillers originate in the federal government than anywhere else. We do not know if these Candu sales are sub-judice or not, but they seem to be in the same parcel as the uranium cartel entered into by our government. Israel, Italy, Argentina, S.

Korea and probably others all in the same bouquet pay an Israeli financier 18.5 million dollars for a mythical service with no receipts or statement or other acknowledgment, with apparently no service given. With such secrecy surrounding it we cannot help but wonder what part of the role the Mafia played, or if for instance some senior members of A.E.C.L. are held to ransom. Coming at a time when the R.C.M.P. are stirred up, thus made less effective adds much mystery. In our news last week we failed to mention that Miss Marion LaPorte of the village, a student of Haliburton High School, one of a group taking a business course, was assigned to assist Mrs. Donna Dillon, Extendicare's secretary, as her part in the Work Experience Program as required in the Ontario Ministry of Education curriculum.

We learn that Marion was a very efficient pupil.

There was a big birthday party for those members who were born in November. It took the form of a sing-song first, M.C.'d by Mrs. Jean Cumming and ably accompanied by Mrs. Betty Salvatore, pianist, Charles Plewman's harmonica and Jake Gill singing at the mike. Those honored thus were Mrs. Edith Hartle, Mrs. Hazel Parish, Mrs. Pauline Otto and Mrs. Augusta Borden. By and by, the cake made yesterday by Mrs. Mary Currah, Mrs. Hazel Parish and Mrs. Lottie Woodcock was brought in and then while those honored gathered about it, snaps were taken. Portions of the cake were served along with tea, or milk, or juice. Mrs. Elsa Mohr was present as a voluntary worker.

Rev. Trevor Denny, pastor of St. Georges Anglican Church, was our spiritual leader for our Friday morning devotion period. Mrs. Florence Burk, pianist for our hymn singing. Afterward we had occasion for the use of entertaining our New Horizon set of dishes because tea was served to the minister and the resident guests that chose to come.

Acid and mercury pollution questioned by county council

"Current acid loadings to lakes in south-central Ontario pose a long-term serious environmental threat," said Dr. Brydges of the Ministry's Water Resources Branch which produced the report. Dr. Brydges said his staff will continue monitoring the effect of acid rainfall on 15 lakes from the study area. "Unlike lakes to the south including the Great Lakes, these waters are not underlain by soluble bedrock which acts as a buffering agent counteracting the acidification process."

The report does not identify the direct sources of the acidic precipitation. The major industrial urban areas to the south and southwest of the study area, in both Canada and the United States are sources of nitrogen and sulphur oxides. Smelting operations located north and northeast of the study area are major sources of sulphur dioxide. Further studies are under way to determine principal sources.

"The pathways of airborne contamination are not as clearly defined as those of rivers which carry water-borne pollution," said Dr. Sam Stevens of the Ministry's Air Resources Branch. "Air masses are extremely mobile and unpredictable and undergo complex chemical reactions, all of which make the job of determining the sources extremely difficult."

Activities of a related ongoing program, known as the Sudbury Environmental Study, include the evaluation of the environmental impact of industrial emissions as well as the further development of techniques to restore aquatic life in lakes now affected by acidity, it said in the release.

The county council also discussed mercury pollution with the officials of the ministry.

According to a report by the ministry brown trout in Cheddar Lake, in Cardiff Township, are unrestricted up to 18 inches long. Fish 18 to 22 inches have some mercury and people should only consume .5 pounds a week at the most.

Lake trout in Koshlong Lake, in Glamorgan Township, should be restricted diets after they are 18 inches long. From 18 to 22 inches the Ministry advises that only .5 pounds be eaten per week. Fish 22 to 26 inches should only be consumed at .3 pounds per week and larger lake trout from Koshlong Lake should not be eaten at all.

Walleye in Paudash Lake, in Cardiff, have shown a level of mercury as well. People are advised to only eat .5 pounds of Walleye a week if the fish is 18 to 22 inches and .3 pounds if the fish is 22 to 26 inches in length.

A comprehensive information package on contaminants in fish in 167 Ontario waterbodies was released today by the Ontario Government.

The package consists of a general information booklet, individual waterbody information cards for use by the public and a technical manual for use by professional personnel. The technical manual will also be available to the general public through libraries and copies may be purchased at the Ontario Government Bookstore at $5.00 per copy.

In addition, signs will be posted at public access points on individual waterbodies where some species of fish are known to contain some degree of contamination.

Fish in many parts of the world have been affected by natural and industrial contaminants. Ontario, however, is a leader in identifying and restricting sources of contamination as well as in developing a public information program about the situation.

Where the contamination problem does exist in Ontario many species of fish are still safe to eat, some in limited quantities. In other cases, eating certain species should be avoided.

Purpose of Ontario's fish contaminants information program is to present the most up-to-date facts developed from data assembled by the Ministries of Environment, Health, Labour and Natural Resources to enable anglers to assess the health risks of eating contaminated fish.

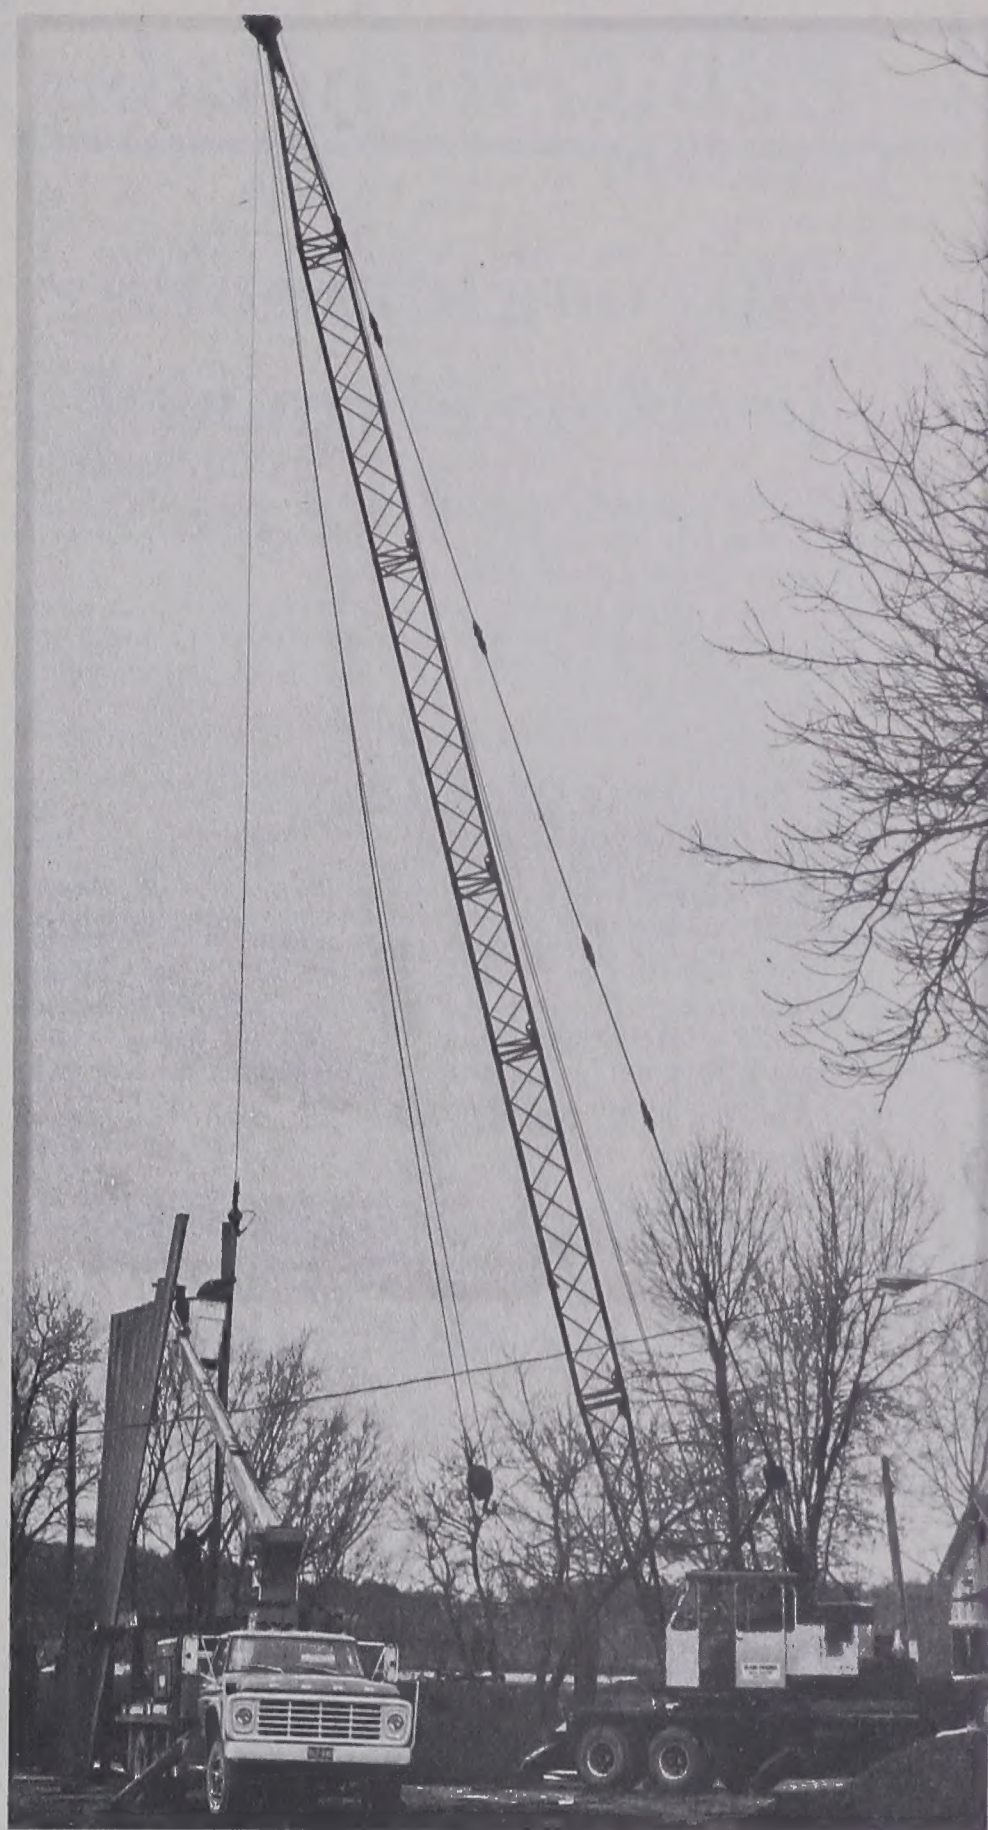

Data in these reports includes all laboratory test results available up to May 1977.

Copies of the general information booklet and individual waterbody cards of the 167 lakes-rivers monitored to date, are available from regional and district offices of the Ministries of Natural Resources and Environment. The program is an ongoing one - with additional lakes and rivers, being monitored now, and reports released when test results are completed.

The Dysart Arena Fund went over the top last week with donations from The Bank of Commerce and the Bank of Montreal. John Schonhoffer, manager of the Bank of Commerce, presented Gary McKnight with a pledge for money. Mr. McKnight is a member of Dysart et al council. The fund raising committee has turned its energies to a number of other projects.

This crane towered over Haliburton last week. The crane is among the many interesting pieces of machinery being used in the Haliburton sewer project. The project is presently going on in the village.

Hunting - a way of life in Haliburton

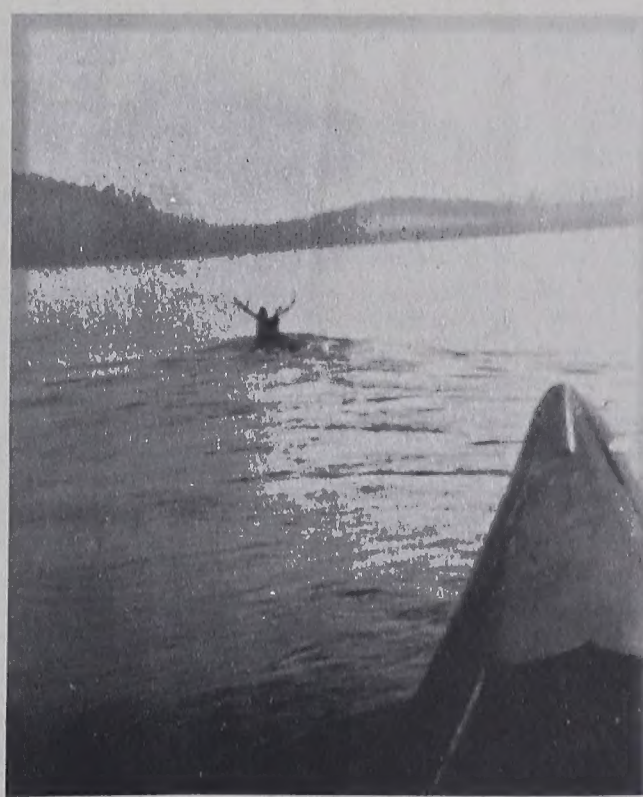

Hunting has long been a way of life and a pastime for people in Haliburton County.

These photos show a hunting expedition that was taken by the late Oscar Walling and Walter Webb. Mr. Webb was living in Uxbridge at the time the photos were taken in 1924.

The camp site was at the east end of Black Lake now in the Haliburton Wildlife and situated where the camp formerly owned by Lynn and Barjaro now stands.

The pictures of the deer in the water were taken while the hunters were on their way home with their deer and supplies. The deer was finally shot by a hunter watching near the McDonald-Redstone portage.

The photos were given to The Echo and Recorder by Walter Webb.

This picture, taken from a canoe shows a deer in the distance swimming across a lake. The photo was taken by one of the members of the hunting party of Walter Webb and the late Oscar Walling.

The adventurous hunters got the canoe close enough to this deer to get a good picture of it. The hunting expedition took place in 1924 near Black Lake.

The tent used by Walter Webb and the late Oscar Walling can be seen in the background. The hunting expedition was held at the east end of Black Lake, now part of the Haliburton Wildlife Reserve.

These two deer show just how successful the 1924 hunting trip of Walter Webb and the late Oscar Walling was. The pictures were supplied to The Echo and Recorder by Mr. Webb who can be seen in the photo.

Walter Webb stands in front of his tent for this picture taken in 1924. The hunting party of Mr. Webb and the late Oscar Walling had its share of luck that year. Mr. Webb entitled this photo "Home Sweet Home."

Echo editorials

Meeting times are problem of council

Perhaps there is a lack of interest in the Haliburton County Social Planning Council, but the council has done everything but change its meeting times to spark more interest.

Perhaps changing the meeting times is what is needed. In a plea to keep the council going, Dave Woodall, a member of the group, in a letter last week to The Echo and Recorder, said that the next meeting will be Nov. 24 at 9:30 a.m.

Nov. 24 is a Thursday and for most of the working people in Haliburton, Thursdays are days of work. Very few people would be able to attend meetings of the council at 9:30 a.m. on a week day.

The Social Planning Council, if it wants a crowd for its next meeting, should change the time to the evening or hold a meeting on a weekend.

This change, at least, would give the residents of the area the opportunity to get out and see what is going on. Changing the meeting date wouldn't necessarily increase the number of people who turn out for Social Planning Council meetings, but at least it would keep us from feeling that few had a chance to see what was going on before the council folds.

Generous donations gives village a park

Haliburton will have a new park, likely by the end of next year, thanks to a generous donation by a lifelong Haliburton resident.

Rex Boice, a well known Haliburton businessman, has donated $20,000 to help pay for the construction of a park on the parcel of land between the CNR tracks and the Drag River. The park will take in the present park on the north side of the river which presently contains the tennis courts and Rotary Beach.

The $20,000 donated by Mr. Boice will make up the entire public share of the funds needed. The other $60,000 for the project will be made up by grants from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation and Wintario.

Mr. Boice's donation will be remembered forever when a fine park is completed on the shore of Head Lake. He has given the money to build something that will be used for many years to come in Haliburton.

Mr. Boice has made his contribution to the community as a resident and businessman. His contribution to the park is something much more than that. It is something for everyone to enjoy.

Improve conduct of students on buses

We agree with the Haliburton County Board of Education with its plan to improve the conduct of students on the busses.

The board decided at its last meeting that a committee should be set up to study the problem.

To listen to some of the tales related to board members would upset almost all taxpayers who are paying for the bus service.

Stories were told about many different incidents, including one about a bus driver who was chased right off the bus.

A few students shouldn't be able to control the environment to the point that others suffer as appears to be the case in the bus problem.

The Haliburton County Board of Education should come down hard on offenders on the buses, perhaps a few of them should have to fine their own way to school for a few days.

Opportunity to express opinion in The Echo

The Haliburton County Echo and Minden Recorder offers its readers the opportunity to express opinions on matters of concern to the area.

If there is something you would like to comment on, whether it is good or bad, send us a letter stating your case.

To have a letter to the editor published though, it must be signed with the persons name, address and telephone number.

The Haliburton Brownies and Guides have found a good way to make money and that's to rent the Molou Theatre and put on two children type shows. They only charged $1.00 per person but they packed the theatre to capacity and came out showing a good profit. There is not too much work involved, only selling advance tickets to the show.

Stedman's in Minden will be holding their annual Christmas Open House this coming Thursday night, November 24, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. There will be 10 per cent off all regular merchandise (cash, credit, or lay-away). There will be free coffee, cake and candy so come on out and join the party.

Congratulations to the men who now form the new executive of the Haliburton Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen. The president is Peter Vanderwal, vice-president Blaine Tunall, secretary Darrell Stamp and treasurer Bob Woodcock. These fine gentlemen, along with many others, have worked hard in getting this organization going and it has been through the efforts of the local chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen that many lives have been changed and many people have come to the Lord. During the past year there has been a tremendous religious revival here in Haliburton County and this has been in part due to the efforts of this organization.

At the time of writing this column, Ron Stackhouse of the Pittsburgh Penguins is off to a great start with five goals and many assists. Ron is one of the most steady defencemen on the Pittsburgh team and we wish him the best of luck during this hockey season.

The Haliburton County Social Planning Council, who in the past have done a marvelous job here in Haliburton County, are running into difficulties. Attendance at their monthly meetings has been going down and down and unless they have better representation from all the various organizations, they are seriously thinking of disbanding. This, in our opinion, would be a pity. Let's hope that there will be a big turnout at the next meeting which will be held at the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home, in Minden, this coming Thursday, November 24, at 10 a.m. The guest speaker will be Wayne Wood, clerk administrator of the Municipality of Dysart et al, who will speak on the subject of recreation.

The Remembrance Day service held at the Cenotaph in Haliburton, on November 11, was well attended and the parade featured the largest turnout of veterans that has been shown in the past several years. Many of the citizens of the village were disappointed in the fact that there wasn't a police cruiser or OPP officer in the village to help direct traffic while the service was on.

We were sorry to learn that Mr. & Mrs. Rick Poole, and their family, will soon be leaving Haliburton to take up residence in Winnipeg, Manitoba. They will be sadly missed and we hate to see them leave. Rick has accepted a position with the Hudson Bay Company and left this week to start working in that capacity. His wife, Elinor, and their children, will be staying in Haliburton until the end of the year. We will miss Rick around the community as he always had a smile on his face and a great sense of humor. During the past years he operated his own business, known as Poole's Variety, and later sold this business and was manager of the Haliburton Pharmacy. He was a very active member of the community, taking a great interest in minor hockey and for many years was a member of the Haliburton Rotary Club. He is also chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education. The Echo, along with their many friends they have made here, wish them the best of luck in their move to Winnipeg.

Craig Stamp, former owner of SporTown, in Haliburton, who along with his wife, are now living in Woodstock. Craig is playing senior hockey with the Woodstock team and from the reports we are hearing he is having a terrific year and is one of their top players. We also learned that he has been out of action recently due to an injury.

Mr. Alan Cavell, consultant for Senior Citizens Services, Ministry of Community and Social Services, was the guest speaker when the Haliburton County Social Planning Council held their monthly meeting at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall, in Haliburton, on October 27. Mr. Cavell mentioned that Haliburton County has the highest percentage of people 65 years and older of any municipality in the province (14.7 per cent). The first part of his address covered Alternate Care Services. He then explained the Senior Volunteer in service programs.

The Haliburton Highlands Cross Country Ski Club held a meeting at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School on Tuesday, November 15, with a turnout of 50 people interested in cross country skiing. Blair Pierce was re-elected as president, Stewart Baker is vice-president, Al Oakley secretary, and Kit Koehler was re-elected as treasurer. We understand that the club have three grants approved. One is a Wintario Capital Grant in the amount of $2,100, for three shelters; the second is a Canada Manpower Grant for $6,049. This grant is to be used to employ three men to cut new trails for cross country skiing. The men are presently working on this project. The club is also eligible for a grant from the Ministry of Natural Resources of up to $1,300, for trail maintenance. This will be for 21 miles of trails which will include a trail from Glebe Park in Haliburton to Deer Lodge. The club are looking for new members and this is your opportunity to join your friends for cross country skiing and also it helps you to keep fit. See a membership application on another page of this issue of The Echo.

Editor's Notebook

by Jim Badgley

The fund raising committee for the Dysart Community Centre Fund has reached its objective of $25,000 to help make repairs and improvements to the Community Centre.

The fund was highly successful. The $25,000 was raised with a great deal of effort by a number of people, but it appeared effortless because there never seemed to be a doubt that the money would be raised.

I would suggest that the fund raising committee just continue on raising money that can be used for a number of community projects.

By raising money through donations, the taxpayers in Dysart are being saved a great deal of money on the tax base. One would have found it a little hard to swallow had one been called upon to foot some of the repair bills of the community centre in taxes.

There are other projects coming up that funding is needed for. There definitely will always be projects that will be of benefit to the community.

People who donate to such a fund, will be donating with the thought in mind that the money will always be used on something that will benefit people in the community, whether it is in the sports, recreation or cultural fields.

I can see this committee building up a bank account, where when needed, funds could be allocated immediately. If repairs are ever needed for the arena again, the committee can say, "here is the money and we will replace it in the bank account later, by public donations."

The committee could act as an impartial body and rule upon requests and grant money to areas that need it.

In a growing community it is all important that the people have the recreation, sports and culture facilities to use. It is important in many ways including uniting the community and making it an appealing place to live.

It is also important though to keep the cost of operating a community down, and the taxpayers can only bear so much. By donating publicly, most taxpayers feel a lot happier than they do by donating through their taxes.

There are also Ministry of Culture and Recreation and Wintario grants to consider, which mean money has to be raised publicly in order to get them.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the president and members of Branch 129, Royal Canadian Legion, may I thank you for your presentation of the Remembrance Day ceremonies and dinner. The pictures were beyond all expectations, words really were not necessary, Jim Badgley said it all with his camera. This edition will become one of those mementos such as the one presented to the branch at the dinner.

Sincerely yours,

Marjorie Robertson P.R.O.

Dear Editor:

We would like to express our opinion on Wednesday night hockey. We are both hockey fans and really looked forward to Wednesday night. It's bad enough not to see the hockey, but it's impossible to even listen to the games on the Foster Hewitt Station as it is garbled and fades out. I guess they don't care about all the shut-ins that look forward to the hockey.

The CBC can bring in junk and specials from the States, but when it comes to our own hockey team, that's overlooked. I do hope that a lot more people will get on the ball and go after them to do something about this matter.

Dear Sir:

How opportune that Trudeau finds that the time is now right to do the impossible deed and have a national referendum on the Quebec situation.

What concessions will he try to finagle from the so-called "English" provinces to do this?

I am betting that it will be an unequivocal demand that all provinces (except Quebec) must change their laws to legalize complete bilingualism (to further appease Quebec)?

Could Trudeau have put off the expected fall election to give him the extra time to Francophonize all Canada before any election takes place?

Will the final step be "The Republic of Canada?" Read "Viva Chairman Pierre" by Lubor J. Zink, and make up your own mind. Mr. Zink is a political columnist and a member of the Parliamentary Press Gallery. It's a collection of parliamentary events, written in a style that's easy to follow.

If "Bilingual Today, French Tomorrow" scared you, wait until you read this book.

Sincerely,

Claudia Say.

1977 SAFE DRIVING WEEK

If you were to fly in a helicopter with a traffic reporter you would see below you many drivers performing the driving task. This means the job of driving that each driver has to do. As you looked at the variety and number of vehicles on the roads, you would be amazed that so many drivers could co-operate so smoothly. Drivers must perform complex tasks. They must observe the whole traffic scene and identify possible problems around them. They must predict from previous experience what other drivers, motorcyclists, pedestrians, and bicyclists may do. Then they must choose actions that will not endanger other road users around them. Drivers must constantly make decisions while their cars are moving, and must control their cars with skill so they will not become a problem or a menace to others.

Knowledge and skill are essential in the safe operation of motor vehicles. Equally important is the willingness of each driver to share the highways with others in the system.

Safe Driving Week, sponsored annually by the Canada Safety Council, from December 1 to 7, provides a special opportunity for us to think about our driving and pedestrian habits in light of other highway users. It is a time to resolve to improve our skills and to conduct ourselves in the traffic environment so that we will contribute to its safety rather than to its risk. We must resolve to drive defensively so that we may contribute to a reduction of vehicle accidents, injuries, and deaths.

Safe Driving Week will be successful again this year if it is given the support of all drivers. We must improve our accident record. The present cost in lives and suffering must not be maintained.

Please, wear your safety restraints, slow down, practice safe driving rules, and give Safe Driving Week your full support.

Be sure your kids go to Cauldron Pharmacy to fill out a free ballot on the Giant Christmas Stocking Draw.

The ballot is FREE! The stocking is FREE! One lucky child will win this stocking presented by the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton. The draw will take place Saturday, December 17, at Cauldron Pharmacy.

The winners in the Kinsmen Gun Draw were Sid Cooper for the 30-06 Remington, and Dave Black for the Baikal shotgun.

Last week, president, John Parish, presented the Arena Fund a cheque for $1,500 on behalf of the Kinsmen Club.

Tickets, at $1.00, are now available for the Kinsmen 50/50 Draw. The winner gets half of the money taken in on ticket sales; the other half goes to the club for service work (such as the arena fund). The first draw will be held Saturday, December 17/77. We hope to make the 50/50 Draw a monthly event, and we also hope that this will be the only draw we hold in the future.

Executive of Presbyterian UCW meeting

Approximately 32 ladies, members of the Presbyterian Executive and local U.C.W. presidents, met at Beaverton United Church, on Mon., Nov. 7.

Mrs. G. Gilson, president of Lindsay Presbyterian, opened the meeting with a poem and a special "get acquainted" time. The morning devotion was led by Kay Russell on the theme of "Discipleship." She quoted from John 15:16, "Ye have not chosen me but I have chosen you." Discipleship is a privilege. Remember what God has done for you; not what you are doing for Him. If you love God obedience becomes a pleasure not a duty.

The report of the Planning Committee for the Presbyterian Annual, was given by Mrs. G. Grills, secretary. The date is March 30, 1978 at Oakwood U.C. with the theme, "15 Years of U.C.W. - Is it Working?" Miss Fern Graham of Head Offices of our Church, will be guest speaker.

The portfolio secretaries reported and some excerpts follow: A reminder that much valuable material for programming is now available through the Presbytery Communications Convenor, Rev. J. Roundell of Greenbank. A letter from the Conference Chairman of the Bursary Fund asked us to assist here if at all possible. 36 persons were helped last year and the fund is very low. The Missions project for the National Church for 1978 is $17,600,000. Bequests are down! Give this earnest consideration.

Sept. 8-10 are the dates for the 1978 School for U.C.W. at Quin-Mo-Lac Camp; capacity 200. It is hoped to hold a mid-week School in Oshawa, Sept. 19-21; capacity 100. The Conference Annual Meeting will be in Kingston at Chalmers U.C. on April 4, 5.

The United Church was present at the National Planning Match near Kingston in September and it was interesting to note that 2,500 signed the guest book in the Church tent.

The ladies of the Presbyterian were generous in their response for financial assistance for bringing the Alcohol & Drug Concern's Van to Lindsay for two weeks this past summer and are sincerely thanked for their effort.

Miss Vina Neale requested that names for the Memorial Book be sent to her no later than January 30 and life members' noted.

News from Extendicare

Extendicare has added a registered nurse to the staff, Mrs. Diane Miedema. Let's all take a vow that we do what we are told.

It is more than welcome at Extendicare to see the construction of the Haliburton sewer extensions. Planned to the last detail before the start, the modern construction of sewers is about as exacting as the construction of a watch. It must be to have a system that is intended to give no trouble in the future. To have to go into a manhole once the system is running, is quite unpleasant. Even so, the pipe connecting one manhole to another is sighted straight so that the entire inside wall of the pipe can be scrutinized should it have to be checked, so if you think the work is proceeding slowly,

Mrs. Gilson closed the meeting with the Serenity Prayer and thanks to the Beaverton ladies for their hospitality. The next meeting is scheduled for February 27, 1978, at Queen St. U.C. in Lindsay.

there is a good reason.

Our work now has to do chiefly with plants, watering them as needed and scrutinizing them for insects or other diseases that may set them back. About the only bloom we have is the oleander on good display in the dining lounge. Presently it has two lovely blooms and indications of two more on the way. There is a dwarf type of begonia also in full bloom but they do not be so spectacular but fill a niche with beauty that would otherwise be empty. We have quite a number of foliage plants that are doing very well. All in all, if we develop cuttings from what we have through the winter, we should have a good display again next spring.

Haliburton Highlights

BY CREIGHTON FEIR

In speaking of a new project it was mentioned at the last meeting of the Haliburton County Social Planning Council that it might be a good idea if space were made available for chronic care cases at the hospital in Haliburton.

Mr. Lou O'Hara (a student) has prepared a study on recreation in Haliburton County during the past 12 months, which was funded by a grant from the Ministry of Culture and Recreation and the brochure is being examined by several local organizations.

Many citizens are asking when the colored lights will be put back in operation on the Main St. of Haliburton. These strings of lights sure add a great deal to the appearance of the village. We understand that it won't be too long now before the blown out bulbs are replaced and new bulbs installed.

The second phase of the Haliburton Sanitary Sewage system is moving right along and Tripp Construction are doing a great job and work is now in progress on many streets in the village. Shamrock Drillers of Haliburton are doing the rock drilling and the rock and fill is now being drawn to the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School to enlarge the playing field.

We were sure pleased to see Don Little, owner of the Silver Maple Motel in Haliburton, up and around again after suffering a heart attack.

Mr. Ross Johnston, a former Haliburton resident who now resides in Oshawa, was a recent visitor to Haliburton.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Joe Taylor, who has been ill for the past few weeks, is on the road to recovery.

We were glad to see Len Ellison back on the job at Haliburton Marine, following a bout of pneumonia.

The Haliburton U.C.W. are holding a Christmas Country Fair on Saturday, November 26, from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Haliburton United Church. Free refreshments will be served. A children's table and a crafts display will be featured this year, along with a country store, home baking, sewing, plants and attic treasures. It all adds up to a very interesting afternoon.

The renovations to the Haliburton Arena are drawing to a close and we noticed over the weekend that a new heating system has been installed on one side of the arena that will heat the seating area. We expect that the other side of the arena will be finished sometime this week. Now you can go to the arena and enjoy the hockey games and other attractions in solid comfort.

Mr. & Mrs. Joe Iles and Mr. & Mrs. Ken Wilson will be off to Montreal this weekend to see the city and take in the Grey Cup Game at Olympic Stadium between Montreal and Edmonton. They will also be attending the Saturday night N.H.L. hockey game at the Montreal Forum.

One of the largest crowds in the past two years turned out on Sunday afternoon for public skating at the Haliburton Arena. The unfortunate part as far as the skaters are concerned, is the fact that they will be deprived of skating on at least five Sunday afternoons as Huskies hockey games are scheduled on five various Sunday afternoons. If this is going to continue it is just about time that one night of the week was put aside for skating. One thing that we can't understand is that with six other days in the week, why hockey games have to be played on Sundays. We understand that some of the players don't like it either. They would sooner be home with their families.

It's Parents' Night tonight (Wednesday, Nov. 23) at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Appointments are not necessary.

Mr. & Mrs. Ernie Warren, of Peterborough, were visitors at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Bob Sisson, at Haliburton over the weekend.

Mr. & Mrs. Art Ward, of Haliburton, are at present visiting in Hawaii.

It was brought to our attention the other day that it seems a pity that practically every roadside fireplace has been torn down. We have been told that there are hardly any left in Haliburton County. We would like the government to explain why this action has been taken. Local people, as well as visitors, love to stop and have a barbecue at these roadside parks. They still have them in Muskoka, why not here? We were also surprised to learn that Hickin Park, on the Allsaw Flats, has been closed as the government finds it too expensive to maintain.

This Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 23, 24, you can get free your child's portrait in vivid color, which is a gift to you from Haliburton Red & White. No appointment is necessary and it's two days only from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The band at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School have a campaign now underway to raise funds. We would like to remind all those who have put in orders that the citrus fruit has been on order and will be coming from Texas. When it arrives, which should be very shortly, an ad will appear in the Haliburton County Echo to let you know that you can pick it up.

A special family service will be held at St. George's Anglican Church this coming Sunday, November 27, at 11 a.m., which will feature "The Joy Group." Following the service a display of Christian books will be on sale. Many Christian books and records, on a special assignment, are available for Christmas presents. In order to avoid the rush, the book display will be open on Saturday night, November 26, in the Parish Hall, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. "The Joy Group" will also be present at the 7 p.m. service at St. Andrews Church, West Guilford, this coming Sunday.

CHAPTER 6

After returning home from the west in the fall of 1911, my uncle, my brother and I, worked at taking cordwood out of the pinery. We were paid about 2.25 to 2.50 a cord. Also, during the winter, I found some trees that would make good lumber. These were cut into logs and took them to the sawmill at South Lake to be made into lumber to take west with us to the homestead.

About the 1st of June, 1912, I went to work for the Baker and Powers Lumber Company again. This time it was on their river drive. This is the time they run the logs down the river to the sawmill. They had just got the drive to the foot of Kushog Lake. From there it would go down the Burnt River to Cameron Lake and then to Lindsay.

In winter the logs had been hauled to a lake or river that was running towards the mill.

Each log bore the company mark. Any logs that had been dumped on the ice of the river went down the river with the spring flood. If they reached the mill, there was a boom to catch them. If they were dumped on a lake, a string of boom timber would be strung around the dump so that when the ice melted, the logs would be inside the boom. Care had to be taken that the ends of the boom were fastened to something solid that would not give way when the frost went out. The boom was made out of long sticks of timber, fastened together by a heavy chain. The chain was made out of five eights iron with a Jew's harp on one end. Holes were bored through the boom timber large enough to let the chain through. When the pieces of boom timber were fastened together properly, they would not come apart.

There were two methods of bringing a boom down a lake. If there was a steamboat on the lake you hitched the boom to it and it was towed down the lake. However, there were not many steamboats on the lake, especially inland lakes in my time, so another method had to be used. A sort of raft was made out of logs that was large enough to hold a capstan, a team of horses and the men. You had a long rope, at least a thousand feet long. If a proper anchor was not to be had, you used a 'big stone'. The stone was fastened to one end of the rope and the other end to the capstan. The anchor was taken out into the lake the length of the line and dropped into the lake. The horses were hitched to a pole in the capstan. They went round and round the capstan and wound the line in, bringing the raft up to the anchor. The boom was fastened to the raft so this pulled the boom ahead. Then the anchor was raised, taken ahead again in a small boat and dropped and the process repeated, all the way down the lake. It was a slow progress and a head wind was a tragedy. A storm would pile up the boom on the shore and it would take days to get it off. So if a boom was being moved down the lake, the men would work day and night, if the weather was good. Then they would rest when the boom was safely tied up at the foot of the lake.

When I went to work on this drive, the boom of logs had been safely brought to the foot of Kushog Lake, and now we were to run the logs through Scots Dam. There was always a dam at the foot of a lake. These dams were built by the government for the use of the lumbermen. They held the water back in the lakes, and when a drive was ready to go down a river, the stop logs on the dam would be raised to send enough water down the river to float the logs down the river. There was always a slide at the bottom of the spillway of a dam to slide the logs over the rocks to quiet water.

The boom would be opened and the logs run into the river below the dam. The first to be run over the dam would be a few sticks of boom timber. These would be caught and used to seal off places where you did not want the logs to go, such as big pieces of low land that would be flooded at high water and where the logs would have floated and be hard to get back into the river. Sometimes bridges needed a stick of boom timber to keep the logs from jamming on the piers.

It was quite a science and needed good management to keep the logs on their way. Men were always send ahead

Girl Reminds Boys Of Their Mothers

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1977 by The Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: All the boys at school confide in me like I was their mother or something. They're always asking my advice on how to get dates with some of the really neat girls they have a crush on.

Is there some witty or catchy phrase I can throw out to let them know that I am available?

Also, my folks are taking me to Hawaii over the Christmas holidays, and I'd like to lose about 30 pounds in a month. I'd sure like to look cute for the trip, so please hurry your answer. Sign me...

PUDGY

DEAR PUDGY: One problem at a time, starting with the one that's probably responsible for the others. You can lose weight by going on a serious diet under a doctor's supervision, but don't expect to shed 30 pounds in 30 days. It took you longer than that to pile it on.

Boys treat you like their mothers because you probably remind them of THEIRS. When you look more like a girl they want to date, they'll realize that you are "available," and you won't need a catchy phrase with which to catch them.

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse who has worked for a competent physician for 15 years.

Every hour at least one person calls and says, "I have a virus. Ask the doctor if I can run in on my lunch hour for a shot."

Abby, what this country needs is a sidewalk booth operated on the same principle as a cigarette machine. The patient could deposit a coin, stick his arm in a slot, select his own medication and get a shot.

People keep asking, "Whatever happened to the good old-fashioned family doctor who made house calls?"

Well, I'd like to know whatever happened to the good old-fashioned trusting patient who let the doctor diagnose the case and prescribe the treatment?

SANTA MONICA

DEAR SANTA: The old-fashioned family doctor was succeeded by a new breed who found he could practice more effectively in his office or in a hospital. And the "old-fashioned patient" has yielded to a generation mostly covered by medical insurance—with a tendency to overuse medical care.

DEAR ABBY: I am one of those people who eat like a horse and never put on a pound. Most of my friends tell me I'm too thin, and someone is always giving me a remedy that will fatten me up. I have tried everything, but I can't seem to gain.

I've had people I hardly know walk up to me, stretch their fingers around my waist, and say, "Gee, you're skinny!" They'd never walk up to a fat person and say, "Gee, you're fat!"

I have been hurt so many times by these rude remarks. Will you please give me a good snappy comeback that will put them in their places?

TOO THIN

DEAR TOO THIN: Silence is often the most effective response to a rude remark. But do see a doctor, dear. He may enjoy "fattening someone up"—for a change.

If you feel left out and lonely, or wish you knew how to get people to like you, my new booklet, "How To Be Popular: You're Never Too Young or Too Old," is for you. Send $1 along with a long, self-addressed, stamped (24 cents) envelope to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Israel had been given the land that God had promised before through Abraham. However, we find that due to their unfaithfulness, they were now in bondage. God had promised through various prophets that one day they would return to the land as one nation (no longer the Northern and Southern Kingdoms).

Their return is the subject of our current article. Open your Bibles to 2 Chronicles, chapter 37, verses 17-23 and read them through. Now, let me draw your attention to one fact that is clearly presented. The language is unmistakable, listen to the words: "that the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Jeremiah might be accomplished." Whenever Jeremiah spoke of a return to the land he was looking for this return which was now beginning to be fulfilled. When Israel went back to the land they fulfilled what God had promised through Jeremiah, et al.

The Bible books of Ezra and Nehemiah reveal the details of the return of the nation to the land they had previously held. In Ezra 2:1-2 we read of the organization of the first group who would return under Zerubbabel (around 42,360 plus servants). In chapter 7 of Ezra, we find that Ezra returns with others to the land. Then in Nehemiah the first two chapters we read of the return of Nehemiah and others. Each of these leaders looked after a particular phase of the restoration of Jerusalem. Zerubbabel had the charge of re-building the temple. Ezra of restoring the law to the people. Nehemiah was in charge of rebuilding the walls around the city. Yes, the return was fulfilled exactly as God had revealed through the prophets.

Had the remnant returned? According to Hagai 1:12 and 2:2 they were back in the land. Zechariah 8:6 speaks of the "remnant" in Jerusalem, while Zechariah 8:12 speaks of "the remnant" to "possess all these things." Listen now to the words of Nehemiah 9:36-38 - "Behold, we are servants this day, and for the land that thou gavest unto our fathers to eat the fruit thereof and the good thereof, behold, we are servants in it: And it yieldeth much increase unto the kings whom thou hast set over us because of our sins: also they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle, at their pleasure, and we are in great distress. And because of all this we make a sure covenant, and write it; and our princes, Levites, and priests, seal unto it." Yes, they were back in the land once more. It would be a failure on my part if I did not point out that never again would Israel enjoy that stature of a strong and powerful nation (cf. Jeremiah 4:27; 5:18; 30:11; 46:28 which teach that Israel was to be scattered but never consumed and Jeremiah 19:10-11; 22:29-30 which teach that they would never rise as a nation again).

Haliburton Curling News

BY TOM STINSON

Haliburton Curling Club Annual Meeting will be held at PineStone Inn, Tuesday, November 29, 8 P.M. Curlers please be there. Ice for the 1977-78 season will be late - but estimates now say we will have ice about December 15. All previous curlers, friends of the Club, and all would-be curlers are asked to please come out, Tuesday, November 29 - find out how we are progressing - information as to how and when we will operate, and Ontario Curling Assoc. events and deadlines.

We particularly want to emphasize that we must get our membership lists in to OCA by November 30. This means that all curlers desiring to participate in OCA Dist. 4 playdowns must be registered. Get your membership in now to Phyllis Woodcock. Fee this year had to be increased slightly - $75.00 for men - $60.00 for ladies - with an initiation fee of $100.00 per member, which may, if you wish, be spread over five years.

Construction on our new rink is progressing on schedule - floor is laid, roof is on, machine is going in this week. We hope for ice by middle of December. In the meantime, if play-offs are necessary for rinks entering seniors, British Consols, or Seagram Mixed, we must know now. Ice has been offered by Minden Curling for playdowns but we must schedule them and register all players by November 30. New curlers are particularly asked to come to this meeting, or to phone Bob or Jean Collier, 457-2547. We plan on coaching clinics prior to league play - and all assistance will be given new curlers. Our Ladies section have already met and elected 77-78 officers with Kit Koehler being elected president, and Pauline Brohm as vice-president. Fund-raising has been an important item in all our meetings - and the ladies already have plans under way - first being a bake sale to be announced.

Our finance committee, headed by Ken Wilson, is hard at work. All, and any, contributions will be gratefully received - send to Ken Wilson, c/o Haliburton Lumber.

Already some of our ambitious curlers have been in competition. Bob Collier's rink and Dick MacLean's rink did well in the Dist. 4 All-Star round robin - Bob's rink finishing with a 6-2 record. With new facilities at our disposal, our Club plans for a good schedule beginning after New Year - also social curling Saturday nights and Sundays - a possibility of afternoon ladies and also an afternoon senior men's league.

With Wilberforce and Minden rinks within a short drive, already a competitive league is operating, and we feel that our new rink will generate a real resurgence of curling activity in Haliburton. We have demonstrated during the past few years that our curlers can hold their own and win in competition - so we ask for a good turnout at our annual meeting, Tuesday, November 29, PineStone.

We would like to extend a big vote of thanks to our Building Committee, headed by Rick Elstone, with Glen Blair, Don Johnston and Cec Bailey. The contractors have been very co-operative and soon you will see a fine new facility sitting next to the arena. What we want to see is more curlers taking advantage of these new facilities.

The Haliburton Huskies downed Madoc 7-3 to register the club's first win of the season on Sunday. The game was played in Madoc. The Huskies will see action this Friday when Madoc visits the Dysart Community Centre for a game scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m. The Huskies are presently in fifth place in the seven team league.

County sports

BY JIM BADGLEY

Hockey is a tough, demanding sport with a great deal of action. Sometimes the action is so intense that a person loses himself, so to speak, when watching and says some words that shouldn't be heard in public, especially in front of youngsters.

Usually the fans, coaches and managers are quite restrained, most seldom, if ever get that excited, but there are those who use some four letter words on a regular basis, and loud enough for many to hear.

I must admit that I have used some of the words myself, but in the presence of a large crowd, like a young hockey team, I attempt to restrain myself.

For the coaches it is particularly important not to swear. First of all, most young hockey players look up to the coach. He is an adult with something to teach them, like their teachers in school.

The young players, attempting to please the coach, usually try to do what they are told, but I wouldn't blame them for not listening if the conversation is spiced with four letter words.

The other problem that arises is that the young players try to emulate the coaches and officials of the team. A hockey coach, for many youngsters, is a hero.

For parents, coaches, fans, and all adults, you soon find that these youngsters imitate quite well and before long the youngsters can come up with a good string of four letter words to call the referee.

It is too early to tell, but after the first couple of games of the season three Huskies were listed among the league leaders in scoring.

Joe Roberts finds himself tied for second with four others, while Barry Shaw is tied for six with four others and Tim Bain is tied for 10th with three others.

The Huskies still look like they will be a winning team this season with experience being the club's main feature.

The Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association has plans well underway for its annual snowmobile rally.

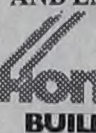

The rally is scheduled for Feb. 25 and starts and finishes at Haliburton Marine.

The rally will be 40 to 50 miles long and includes eight or nine checkpoints.

It was noted by an official of the association that the event is not a race, but is operated like a car rally.

Along the Trails

BY ROY BATES

DRIVER TRAINING SCHOOLS

The Stanhope Fire Hall, located on the North Shore Road, will be the scene of a snowmobile drivers course Sunday, December 4th. Bob Patton and Bob Jennings, instructors for the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association, will work together on this one. The session begins at 9 a.m.

One day earlier, Sat., Dec. 3, Wm. Joyce will be instructing for the Kennis Lake Snowmobile Assoc. at Kennis. His school will also begin at 9.

The Somerville and District Snowmobile Assoc. held their first school of the season last weekend. Instructor, Erick Watson, divided his course in two sessions, Sat. and Sun. afternoon, and used the facilities of the Burnt River Public School.

All snowmobiling families with children twelve to sixteen (or older members of the family who are unlicensed) are urged to enroll them for an up-coming class. For information and application forms, write or phone Roy Bates, R.R. 2, Haliburton, Ont. KOM 1S0, or your local snowmobile club.

SNOWMOBILE CLUBS PLAN EXCITING WINTER

This writer has just finished editing material from nearly a dozen club newsletters for the new magazine, SNOWMOBILE SPORTS. This is the publication launched in Sept. which carries the news of the Ontario Federation of Snowmobile Clubs and is a part of the membership package of all Federated Clubs. At last week's Leamington meeting of the O.F.S.C. we were appointed (or we volunteered, we are not sure which) to take on the job of compiling the information from club bulletins, another Labor of Love for snowmobilers.

It is the time of year when interest in snowmobile clubs is at a high level. Club executives and their committee chairmen are scrambling to put on a succession of fun events for their members during the season and the majority of newsletters carried a full calendar of these events. We were a little amazed, and no less pleased, by the extent of social activity in the clubs, particularly those to the South. A couple of special events are worth mentioning here.

The DRUMBO SNOWMOBILE CLUB plans a Family Day geared to the pleasure of non-snowmobiling members of the family, the very young and the very old. A major feature of the day's fun is an old-fashioned hay ride with a team and bobsleighs provided by a friendly local farmer. It seems to us that this kind of event should be on every club calendar. And so should this next one!

The SPEED RIVER SNOWMOBILE CLUB schedules a Landowner Appreciation Night at which all property owners who have granted permission for trails are honored with a monster banquet and dance. The gala event takes place this year in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Maryhill at the end of the snowmobiling season, March 25.

AND COMMUNITY SERVICE TOO

The Carluke Trail Twisters, a two year old club of fifty families, has contributed Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars in equipment to the Senior Citizens Achievement Centre in Alberton, Ontario. The money was used for a public address system, with speakers and amplifier, a coffee percolator, canister set, various pots and pans for the kitchen, and flood lights. In addition, a mum plant was presented to the community's Mrs. John Thompson, 93 years young, in November. At about the same time, a cheque for $250 was given to the Carluke Community Centre for renovations to the hall. The item did not say how the money was raised but we can be sure it took a little effort.

Nicholls has 14 goals in 13 games with B team

Woodstock - Bernie Nicholls, who last year scored goals for both the Haliburton Huskies and the Haliburton Beaconbrook Midgets, is doing more of the same with Woodstock Navy Vets, a Junior B team.

A story in a Woodstock newspaper said that Nicholls has 14 goals in the teams first 13 games and is in fourth place in the scoring race.

The story read "Last season, in Haliburton, Nicholls counted 77 goals for the town's midget all-star team and added 23 more for the Haliburton Huskies (Junior D) giving him an even 100 for the year.

"The high scoring right-winger will be in Woodstock's lineup tonight when Vets host Brantford Penguins in a game beginning at 8:30 at the Perry Street arena.

"Nicholls, a grade 10 student at Huron Park Secondary School, said he was encouraged to play in Woodstock this year by his cousin, Craig Stamp, who plays defence for the Continental Senior A Woodstock Royals.

"Craig told me about Navy Vets and thought it would be a good idea for me to come here to play. I'm glad I did because Woodstock is a nice place.

"Nicholls expects Vets to improve despite their dismal record over the first 13 games (one win, 10 losses and two ties).

"Right now we play well only against London, but I think we'll get better."

"His love for sports isn't restricted to hockey as he says he enjoys all sports. Hunting is one of his favorites. Last weekend he returned home to West Guilford (nine miles from Haliburton) to hunt at a camp run by his father and his uncle.

"This is a key year in the future of Nicholls as he becomes eligible for the Junior A draft at the end of this season.

"He said he would definitely like to play professional hockey once his junior days are done, four years from now.

"But Navy Vets aren't thinking that far in the future. In a year that has begun on a dismal note, Bernie Nicholls goal-scoring talent has supplied them a bit of a brightener."

Wolf bounty has not been settled by the county

Contrary to the understanding of many Haliburton trappers, the wolf bounty in the County has not been clearly ratified. The payment of bounty money has not been approved by the county council.

County council is corresponding with Victoria County to determine how best to administer the wolf bounty program. The county does not expect to begin paying wolf bounty before the new year.

Task force is touring the north

The Liberal Caucus Task Force on Tourism, headed by Victoria-Haliburton MPP, John Eakins, to look into the depressed state of the tourist industry in Ontario, is visiting four Northern Ontario cities.

The Task Force is meeting with the concerned citizens groups throughout the province in order to obtain a "grass roots" idea of how the tourist industry can be better served at Queen's Park. The Task Force will consult with municipalities, chambers of commerce, tourist organizations, individual tourist operators and interested individuals.

The Task Force is headed by Mr. Eakins, the Liberal Critic for Industry & Tourism and member for Victoria-Haliburton. Members of the Committee are Ray Haggerty (Fort Erie), J. Earl McEwen (Frontenac-Addington), Sean Conway (Renfrew North), Eric Cunningham (Wentworth North), Mike Bolan (Nipissing), Vince Kerrio (Niagara Falls), Jack Riddell (Huron-Middlesex) and Jim Bradley (St. Catharines).

Christmas deadlines set

Canadian Postal users are advised that the Christmas mailing deadlines for greeting cards are December 13 for out-of-town Canadian or United States destinations and December 17 for in-town mail. Parcels for distant Canadian points and the United States should be mailed before December 3.

"All greeting cards sent within Canada and the United States should be sealed, even though they may be sent at the third-class rate of 10 cents (up to 2 oz.)," Jim Perrin, Postmaster in Haliburton, said.

Greeting cards for all other countries should be left unsealed unless sent at the first-class rate, and can be sent by airmail for 18 cents (up to one ounce), or by surface means at 12 cents (up to one ounce), he noted.

Mr. Perrin said, "the Christmas mailing deadlines for unsealed greeting cards being sent overseas by airmail, and for letters at the first-class rate, are December 2 for Haiti, the Netherlands, Antilles and Cuba; December 8 for Europe, South and Central America, the West Indies, Africa, Asia and Oceania (including Australia and New Zealand); and December 13 for Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland."

The deadline dates for parcels sent overseas by air are November for Haiti, Netherlands Antilles, Cuba, Africa, Asia and Oceania (including Australia and New Zealand); December 1 for Argentina and Paraguay; December 2 for Europe, the rest of Central and South America and the West Indies; and December 8 for Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland, he added.

"For deadlines on surface mail overseas or mail destined for Canadian Forces Overseas, consult your local postmaster," he said.

Mr. Perrin said that this year Canada Post invites mailers to take advantage of its Dial-A-Code system in order to obtain the Postal Codes for addresses on their greeting cards.

"To use this service postal users may call up the toll-free Dial-A-Code telephone number for the area in which they reside to obtain the Postal Codes for up to three addresses per telephone call. This service is available in all parts of Canada served by the Trans-Canada telephone system," he said.

The telephone numbers for Ontario residents to call are:

445-2231 - for residents of Metro Toronto.

1-800-261-6222 - for those residing in area code 807 boundaries.

1-800-261-6121 - for those living in all other areas of Ontario served by the Trans-Canada Telephone system.

Minden is focal point of this week's tour

Editor's Note: This is the eighth part in a series of tours of Haliburton County. This week's tour covers the Village of Minden.

Minden is one of the two larger built-up areas in Haliburton County and houses the county offices and the offices for the municipality of Dysart et al.

Minden offers many scenic locations, including a park which overlooks the entire town from many feet up and the Gull River, winding its way through town.

The village has its share of places of entertainment, including a modern arena.

One startling feature that will stand out in most people's minds though, is Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home. This unique building can be seen from a number of areas of the village and provides a contrast to Haliburton County's otherwise rural setting.

Perhaps it is time most of us got out and explored our modern villages in Haliburton County.

Jim Badgley

The Clergy House in Minden is said to be the oldest house in the area. The house is located across from the Gull River and is owned by Mr. & Mrs. Stan Blears.

The house is one of the many interesting and historical sites in the Village of Minden.

Hyland Crest Senior Citizen Home's unique design is a surprise to many visitors to the area. The home, which is operated by the County of Haliburton, can be seen from many places in the Village of Minden. Minden is one of the two major built-up areas in Haliburton County.

Norland Notebook

Some of our local Fenelon Falls Secondary School graduates are attending universities this fall. John Brohm, son of Bob and Irene Brohm, received a scholarship to Queen's University in Kingston, while Ken, son of Earl and Doris Bartley, is hard at work in business administration course at Sir Wilfred Laurier University at Waterloo.

Ruth Ann Matthews, the daughter of Roy and Rotha Bryant, has the lead role of Leanne in a play called "Happy Holly" that is being performed by the Lindsay Little Theatre members. Nov. 19 at the Academy Theatre in Lindsay. It is in conjunction with the Lindsay Chamber of Commerce Santa Claus Parade and the two performances, at 1:30 and 3:00 p.m., are limited to children up to 10 years of age. "Happy Holly" is the story of what an efficiency expert in Santa's workshop would do to Christmas.

A lifelong resident of Norland, Mrs. Hazel Brohm, passed away on November 15 at Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. Hazel was predeceased by her husband, Owen and three sons, Morris, Roland and Joseph. She was born, attended school and lived all of her married life in the Norland area. Her sister, brothers, 6 grandchildren, 6 great grandchildren and her many friends mourn the loss of this fine lady. A private family funeral was from the John Welch and Son Funeral Home, Minden, on Nov. 18.

As the large white snowflakes fall to the ground outside the window, one's thoughts might turn to that great Canadian outdoor winter sport, skiing. Fenelon Falls Nordic Ski School, situated at the Byrnestown Golf Course, across from the Shilo Christian Centre, on the south side of Highway 35A, is expecting to open around Christmas time. Walter Dobrow, head of the ski school, says that they have a program that will take care of all types of skiers from beginners to experts. The school has a new trail groomer that will be used to pack and groove tracks on the ski trails - a very important part of cross country skiing. There will also be a babysitting service available this year, on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays, for a nominal fee.

This should be of interest to young couples who would both like to ski but have young children who require a sitter. A 500 foot addition is being added to the existing building which will mean more room and larger restaurant facilities. The school will be open seven days a week and has rental equipment available to all interested skiers.

Wednesday, Nov. 16, completed the first series of the Norland Bowling Club. Team #6 with John Maunder, Jean Boyce, Margaret Edwards, John Beachli and Adrian Lee on it, won the series with 38 points. Other team standings - K. Watson 26 points, D. Boyce 25 points, E. Forsythe 24 points, J. Boyce 21 points and E. Edwards 13 points. Ladies high single and triple, Marj. Lee - 223, 597, Ladies high average - Rotha Bryant 185. Men's high single - Adrian Lee - 305, high triple - Doug Boyce 688 and high average, Ernie Edwards - 208.

On Saturday, Nov. 26, Juanita Robb, daughter of Alvin and Helen Gostlin, will become the bride of Bradley, son of Theodore and Patricia Watson. About 60 guests will attend the ceremony in the home of Gene Suggitt, Bad-dow. Our congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple.

Norland Volunteer Fire-fighters Association hockey pool will now be based on the second of the last goal of the Saturday night game of the Toronto Maple Leafs, televised on Channel 3 and 5. Originally, it was the hockey game shown on Channel 12 but it wasn't always the Toronto team that was being televised. Winner November 12 was Joe England Sr. with 54 seconds.

HELPFUL HINT

With the high cost of bacon, no one wants to waste any of it by having to throw out the spoiled product. Here's an easy way to freeze it that really works. If, when you first purchase the bacon, you open the package and place the strips side by side on a piece of waxed paper, cover with another sheet of paper, roll it up, and store in a plastic bag in the freezer, you will find that the bacon unrolls easily enough to remove a piece or pieces at a time and then re-roll and return remainder to the freezer. It keeps for one to two months and the bacon can be cooked frozen because it thaws quickly in the fry pan.

Next movie in Norland Community Hall is "Drive In" on Sunday, Dec. 4, at 7:00 p.m. Admission for all ages is $1.50.

Legion News from Kinmount

BY SAM TELFORD

Once again the citizens of Kinmount bowed their heads to pay tribute to the 100,000 Canadians who lost their lives in two world wars.

Present were Auxiliary Zone Commander, Phyllis Montemiglio from Lindsay; Comrade R.J. Vick, Reeve of Snowdon, Warden Haliburton County; Maurice Watson, Reeve of Somerville County; Carl Brickman, Reeve of Galway-Cavendish Counties and Comrade Bill Scott, MP Parade Marshall Arnold Schroter, and Sergeant-at-Arms Jim Nightingale were in charge of the color party.

President Albert Crego spoke for a few moments to let us think of those of our comrades who died to make it possible for us to live. The Lament was played by Comrade Jim Thomson. Comrade Norman Silvers called The Roll of those who died in combat. Comrade Alan Brown spoke to the assembly, and we quote, in part:

"We assemble here this morning to offer a tribute to the memory of the War Dead, to renew our pledge. We will remember them and to present a challenge to the present generation, and in particular the young people here today. On this occasion, we present our tribute to those whose names are inscribed on the Honor Roll of this cenotaph with our presence, our prayers, our wreaths, our poppies, our silence, and our sincere dedication to peace in the future.

The motto of the Royal Canadian Legion is "Lest We Forget." At each meeting, we repeat: "They shall not grow old. Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, we will remember them."

"Boys and girls, so you will remember the Royal Canadian Legion, and in turn remember the War Dead and the ideals for which they gave their lives, we, in the Legion

Chicago is a good sized American city, yet two former school friends met there accidentally recently. Rev. The two "Bill's" at one time both lived in Saskatchewan and needless to say, caught up on a lot of back news over dinner together.

This is the season for bazaars and Christmas teas. Remember to pay a visit to your local bazaars and see all the goodies for Christmas. Also, remember the upcoming Legion Santa Claus Parade. If you know someone or some business who would like to enter the parade, contact a Legion member right away.

The Remembrance parade was held last week. Many of us had loved ones who served their country in one of the world wars and some lost loved ones that we might live in a country of freedom. Let us never forget the supreme sacrifice that so many paid for we who live.

Chatting with Irene

I had a lovely time at the U.C.W. luncheon last Friday, and chatted with many old friends, who had braved the nasty weather just to come and enjoy themselves. One lady who used to be my neighbor and friend was there and we had such a lovely chat. I hadn't seen her in years, but she told me it was like being back here to read my column, so thank you very much again. No, I will not tell you who it was but she will know, and really that is all that matters isn't it. It was also great to have Bert Rowe helping us this year again. She and Lionel had come up to stay with Art and Reta Hodgkinson for a few days. One of the gentlemen who was at the luncheon took great enjoyment in introducing me to Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Moore from Lutterworth Estates, and we had a good laugh over having the same name. Yes, I am Mrs. Wm. Moore but we live right here in Minden. Just for the fun of it I checked the telephone book and found five W. Moore's, but now can understand why people get mixed up.

There is to be a "Special Meeting" for the Ladies Dept., Haliburton County Fair, on Nov. 28 at 8 p.m., in Minden Municipal Council Chambers. This meeting is to elect committees for the following departments - Needlecraft, handicraft, hobbies, floral, domestic science, fair queen, junior list. All ladies in the county who are willing and interested in helping, please come to the meeting and bring your suggestions and complaints for the suggestion box. Your membership of $3.00 gives you voting and exhibiting privileges for 1978.

We are very glad to tell you that Mrs. Jean Taylor is out of hospital and will be coming home later this week.

Weekend visitors in the village were Mr. & Mrs. Blake Hughes of Mississauga with Mr. & Mrs. Bob Hughes; Mr. & Mrs. Ron Welch & Heather, of Frankford, with Mrs. Edith Welch; Miss Sandra Sears of Barrie, Mr. Randy White of Newmarket, Mr. Glen Sears and family, of West Hill, with Mr. & Mrs. Milt Sears; Mr. & Mrs. Leslie Coulter, of Kirkfield, with Mr. & Mrs. Angus Coulter.

The Minden Ambulance personnel invite the general public to come to Minden council chambers this Thurs., Nov. 24, where three films are to be shown at 9 p.m. These films will only take about one hour of your time, and are "Blood can Work Miracles; Hemo - The Magnificent and Pregnancy & Birth." They also wish you to know that the fund for the travelling incubator is now approx. $620. Isn't that great?

Winners of the Mini Card Party last Thurs. afternoon were: Bridge - Hilda Rush; Euchre-Lone - Doris Craig; Nellie MacMinn and Ethel Leigh; Cribbage - Bill Bennett and Fred Wright.

Well the sun is out right now, but I sure wish it had been out yesterday when I was going to the arena. Coming home was even worse, and I did not envy the Millbrook Team the trip home. It did not seem to bother too many people for they still came out for the games. When I got home I was shaking, for someone followed me so close that their headlights were blinding me.

Mr. & Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge, of Scarboro, spent the weekend with Mrs. Ben Harrison.

Don't forget to come to the meeting of the new library committee next Tues. evening, Nov. 29, at the Parish Hall, 8 p.m. Special speakers will be there from Peterborough.

Dec. 3 is the date of the A.C.W. Christmas Tea & Bazaar at the Parish Hall, so be sure to attend it if possible.

Last Tues. afternoon Mr. & Mrs. Alfred Moore of Bobcaygeon, and Mr. & Mrs. Alan Brydson of Bracebridge visited with Mrs. Ethel Harrison & Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Moore.

After being so calorie careful last week, I decided it was too close to Christmas to keep on with it so here is a nice recipe for you. Coconut Bars (makes 28 bars): 2 cups flour, 1/2 cup margarine or butter, 1/2 cup brown sugar (firmly packed), 3 eggs, well beaten, 2 more cups brown sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 cup shredded coconut, 1/2 cup raisins, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 2 tbsp. lemon juice, 1 tsp. grated lemon rind. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Mix flour, butter and 1/4 cup brown sugar well, press firmly into bottom of lightly greased pan 13" x 9". Bake 10 min. Mix eggs, 2 cups sugar and salt together, stir in rest of ingredients. Spread evenly over the partially baked crust. Bake 25 minutes longer or until evenly browned. Cool, cut into squares.

members and two guests, the roll call was an exchange of recipes. Mrs. Moore, acting for Mrs. J. Taylor, reported sending 28 cards. After the Home & Country magazines were given out, Mrs. Arnold Coulter read a poem "Getting Older" and Mrs. Ewing read an article "What Grandmothers are Made of." Mrs. Hulbig's report of the Area Convention was enjoyed by everyone. Mrs. W. Locke's paper on the Museum and Training of the young people at Camp Kandalore was very interesting as we all like to hear about events close to home. After the meeting closed a delicious lunch was served by the ladies in charge. The Dec. meeting will be in the United Church Hall on Dec. 21, 7:30 p.m. and there will be an exchange of gifts. The roll call is a Christmas verse.

Adios and take care now.

Report from Queen's Park

BY MPP JOHN EAKINS

Shortly after the legislature gave second reading to the Private Member's Bill to raise the drinking age to 19, the Premier held a press conference, at which he stated that his government would allow the bill to die on the order paper. "Raising the age is not by itself going to solve what I perceive to be a significant social problem," he said, and indicated that his government will move next February "by resolution and/or legislation" to crack down on young drinkers. Measures will include a stricter enforcement of liquor laws, tougher measures against people selling liquor to minors and more stringent guidelines for liquor advertising.

A select committee, with members of all three parties, has been established to report in about five weeks on what, if anything, can be done about massive layoffs planned by Inco Ltd. We, in the Liberal Party, attempted to expand the committee's terms of reference to allow it to study problems in resource industries in general. Stuart Smith said that if this could not be done, the committee could continue sitting next year, to come up with recommendations to the government on resources development policy. The terms of reference of the committee allow it to call company and union officials from Inco to explain factors leading to the decision to eliminate 2,800 jobs early next year in Sudbury and Port Colborne. It will also "examine the future plans of the company in relationship to the effect on the Canadian operations."

Opposition Members have called upon the Attorney General to explain why no charges were laid as a result of an incident in 1975, involving a Bramalea developer who asked the Provincial Treasurer to obtain an early OMB hearing. The Attorney-General has stated that "The matter of charges was reviewed by most of the senior law officers in the criminal division of the ministry," but "it was their considered opinion not to lay charges." Bob Nixon (Liberal, Brant-Oxford-Norfolk) has maintained that the A.G. should "satisfy the community, and in the same vein, the members of the house, as to why he took a decision under certain circumstances." Albert Roy, Liberal MPP for Ottawa East, has pointed out that generally the police and legal officers are very sensitive about laying charges under the relevant section of the Criminal Code, and that an opinion is usually sought from the A.G.'s office. "Generally speaking, the opinion is exceedingly important because the police will follow it," he said.

As an economy move, the Ontario Ministry of Health is laying off staff. Sixty-four "unclassified" workers at five psychiatric hospitals have been given notice, four Queen's Park staff have been laid off, the Windsor office of the Ontario Health Insurance Plan has been demoted to a sub-office. Total savings are estimated at $2 million. Thirty-one of the 64 laid-off hospital workers are Mrs. Alex Grant spent several days in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, last week, but is home again.

This is the season of icy roads and snow. Be prepared and carry a big milk carton packed with sand, a bag of kitty litter or some wood ashes, and a burlap bag or some remnant of a rough type carpet. All are good for putting under those spinning back tires for traction.

A young man bemoans the lack of opportunity. An old man bemoans the opportunities he missed.

Here is a different Potato Pancake recipe:

4 Medium potatoes, peeled, shredded (3 cups).
1/4 cup grated onion.
2 tsp. finely chopped fresh parsley.
1/4 tsp. salt.
Dash of pepper.
1/8 tsp. nutmeg.
2 Egg yolks.
2 tbsp. all purpose flour.
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.
Butter for frying.

Toss grated potatoes into ice water, drain well. Press out all water between paper towels. Combine parsley, onion, salt, pepper, nutmeg and egg yolks. Add to potatoes and mix well with a fork. Sprinkle flour over potato mixture, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Heat frypan to 190 C (or 375 F) and lightly grease with butter. Drop potato mixture by large spoonfuls into frypan. Cook until browned, 2 to 3 minutes, on each side. Serve immediately with warm applesauce or sour cream. Makes 15 - 3 1/2" cakes.

watch the bridges and other places where the logs are liable to jam. The older men were always given these jobs. I remember one man was sent to watch a bad place at the foot of a rapids where logs were liable to jam. It began to rain and he took shelter in some farm buildings and let the logs look after themselves. All went well until he looked out and saw the logs jammed up around the bend. Before they could shut off the flow of logs, there was a quarter of a mile of logs jammed in the rapids. It took us days to get them moving again.

When the logs were all run through a dam, we started to tail. That is to clean the logs from the sides of the river where they had lodged for one reason or another. For this job we used two boats, one on each side of the river. The boats were about thirty feet long and held about six men and a ton of boom chains. One man stood in front of the boat with a pike pole. He pulled the logs out into the river while two other men held the boat in the current. Another man steered the boat. A pike pole is a long slender pole with a boat hook in the end. We used them for everything on the river except when working on log jams where we used pikes. They had a stout handle about five feet long and looked something like a cant hook, only on the end instead of a snibby, there was a heavy square piece of iron driven in, to pry out logs when working on a log jam.

The river men were a good hearted bunch, but most of them were addicted to strong drink. All the little towns along the river had their hotels where liquor was available. There would be more or less drinking as the drive progressed, ending with a big drunk when the drive reached the sawmill and the men would be paid off. Most of them would be broke or nearly so, they would have very little to take home to their wives and families. They would hang around home for a week or so and then go back to camp to fight the flies and peel tanbark or cut logs and repeat the cycle all over again. I have worked with old white haired men who had followed the same cycle year after year for their whole lives. They had never been able to own their own homes. Some of them had homes on small farms where they had a few cows for the wife and children to look after while they were working in the woods, but most of them lived in rented houses in the towns. I won't say I never touched the stuff then. I used to take a drink or two when I was out with the boys, however, I never got drunk, and I could see at that young age of 16 what the use of liquor would lead to. Another thing I had a wonderful mother who hated drink and tobacco, and I think that was the strongest reason I did not follow in the steps of so many of the men I worked with.

In June of 1912, the people of Haliburton County were shocked by the news that a murder had been committed in their midst. A family feud had broken out between two brothers-in-law who lived on the road between Minden and Kinmount, about two miles south of Minden. The feud came to a head one evening when Ellis saw Porter coming down the road. He hid behind a tree. When Porter came within range he shot him with a .57 Snider rifle that had a bullet about the size of a small cannon ball. He carried him some distance and buried him beside a big log. Lew Porter was a big man and Hee Ellis was only a little man. How he managed to get Porter to the place where he buried him has puzzled the people of the countryside to this day. All the people in the country turned out to hunt for the missing man. The drive was going down the Gull River at the time and the river drivers all turned to join the hunt. It took several days before the body was found. Suspicion pointed to Ellis as the feud was known in the neighborhood. He was arrested and brought into Minden. An inquest was held in the courthouse a few days later. People came from all over the country. The courthouse was filled to overflowing. A bunch of us drove over from Gelert with a team and democrat - no cars then. At the inquest, Ellis admitted the crime and gave some details as to how it was committed. When asked how he managed to get Porter's body to the place where he buried him, he answered, "Oh we managed it alright." No amount of cross examination would make him divulge who the "we" were. If my memory serves me right, he was sentenced to be hanged, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. His health failed when he was in prison. He was released on compassionate grounds. He died a short time after his release. I did not know Ellis, but I had worked with Porter at the Chemical Works at Donald the winter before.

One day after we had moved west, I was doing some business at the bank at Leader. In my conversation with the teller, I found he was

From the Chamber

BY BOB STINSON

One advantage to living in the Haliburton Highlands is that when you go on holidays you can truthfully say that it's nice to get home. It's great to get out and look around at how the rest of the world lives, but when you get home you have that feeling that you never saw anything quite as nice as this. We spent the last three weeks travelling in a camper as far south as Florida. We saw a lot of country, and observed a lot of tourist areas. Sometimes we tend to think we are the only ones with substantial tourist problems, but a trip of this nature certainly indicates that some of our problems are shared in varying degrees by tourist areas as far away as Florida. One observation was that campgrounds in the United States can hardly be called that anymore, and in fact are more often referred to as camping resorts or R.V. (recreational vehicle) parks. The once popular tent trailer has pretty well disappeared entirely and most parks are completely filled up with large trailers and motor homes. Even the camper on a pick-up truck such as we were using is almost extinct in the southern United States. If Americans with this sophisticated equipment are to be enticed to spend any part of their time in our area it is obvious that many of our campgrounds would require considerable upgrading to provide the facilities that these people are used to.

We see the Ministry of Environment has been at it again, now with the acid rain scare. This particular branch of our provincial government almost appears to be working on behalf of the American Department of Tourism. Their latest report was given considerable play in the American papers, and of course, they somehow miss the footnote that there is no particular danger to personal health because of this so-called pollution. It is nice to know that the Ministry of Environment is continually testing our lakes and rivers to make sure they are safe and pollution free, but we fail to see what possible good can come from these press releases which almost seem to be designed to scare tourists away from tourist country.

We are pleased to announce that the Ontario Chamber of Commerce has appointed our president, Dennis Casey, to their board of directors for the coming year. Dennis will be representing not only our Chamber, but the Kawartha Region as well, which encompasses some seven or eight Chambers of Commerce. It will be a definite asset for our area to have this direct representation on the Ontario board to help carry some of our pressing issues to Queen's Park.

As a result of policies established at the Ontario Chamber annual meeting a number of submissions have now been presented to various cabinet ministers. Two that particularly concern us have been submitted to the Honorable Frank Miller, the Minister of Natural Resources. "This year the Ontario Chamber membership has adopted and approved the following statements:

1. It is recommended that the leasing of water lots from the Ministry of Natural Resources should be continued only on a voluntary basis. The present practice of making it mandatory for commercial operators only to lease water lots is discriminatory and should be discontinued. It is further recommended that all commercial operators who have been required to sign a water lot agreement should be permitted to cancel these contracts and have their money refunded.

2. It is recommended that with the exception of student son a study program of projects of similar nature, a shorter time limit should be imposed relative to the use of Provincial Parks in order that more Ontario residents have full use of the parks. Rates in provincial parks should be based on cost of operations similar to privately owned campgrounds. A combination of low rates in provincial parks and free use of special interest groups is unfair to private park operators.

In order to prepare a constructive presentation on the effects of low water levels on our economy we recently have circulated a questionnaire to a large portion of our membership and to private cottage owners. The response from the cottage owners has been overwhelming while the response from our members has been disappointing. It would be a sad commentary to assume that this issue is of more importance to cottagers than it is to those of us who derive their living in the community. The committee will be meeting this Saturday to begin coaling the results of this survey into a presentation. We urge all members to return their survey sheets immediately so that they can be included, and help this committee to build a meaningful document.

Just before leaving on holidays we were honored to be present at Bob Vick's Warden's banquet. Never before have we had the pleasure of hearing such a wonderful address as was given by Bob that night. Bob is known as a down-to-earth person, and his speech was exactly that, down-to-earth. We wish to congratulate Bob not only on an extremely successful year as Warden, but on his extremely successful banquet.

Report from Queens Park

full-time and 33 part-time. They include nurses, food-service helpers, a cook, cleaners, manual workers, a switchboard operator, a laundry worker and an occupational therapist.

The Windsor regional office of OHIP, which has a staff of 51, will be converted to a sub-office with a staff of five after December 31. Twenty-seven employees have been offered jobs in London next year, and the other 19 will be subject to lay-off.

In a statement of the Royal Commission on the Northern Environment, Reed Ltd. suggested it will not be able to go ahead with a plan to harvest 19,000 square miles north of Dryden. Unless the company can make a better profit than its present situation suggests, it will not be able to proceed with its proposed mill. (The company is said to be losing $20 million this year.)

The Minister of Natural Resources has told the legislature that there is little hope for this project. The pulp industry is in trouble financially because of world over-supply and dumping on the market by Scandinavian countries. You will recall that a memorandum of agreement signed by Reed and the government last year would have given the company timber rights in a huge tract of land and allowed a mill in the Red Lake area if the environmental, social, cultural and economic impact on the North was not found to be too high a price to pay. The Royal Commission was established as a result of strong opposition from ourselves and the NDP to this controversial memorandum of agreement.

Following Reed's recent statement, Liberal Leader Stuart Smith suggested possible alternatives were for another company to build a mill, with timber rights going in small parcels to several companies who would all use the mill, or permitting smaller operators to use existing mills and/or build small-scale new mills. The Minister believes it is unlikely that any new pulp mill could survive in today's economic conditions unless it had access to all the timber from the area under study.

HHSS News

by Diane Cowen

On Tuesday, November 15, the midget girls basketball team travelled to L.C.V.I. to participate in a tournament. The results were: 1st game was played against Fenelon and the score was Fenelon 26, Haliburton 16; the second game was played against I.E. Weldon and the scores were I.E. Weldon 16, Haliburton 12.

The seniors and juniors teams travelled to Norwood, also on Tuesday, to play the first game in the semi-finals. The girls of both teams played very well. In the senior game Norwood won by a score of 41 to 17. The juniors did quite well as the beat Norwood by a score of 21 to 17. The second and final game is to be played on Thursday, November 17, at our school.

Also on Tuesday the grade 10 to 13 French classes travelled to the Revue Theatre to see a film of a best selling novel in French. Apparently the kids had lots of fun and enjoyed themselves very much.

On Wednesday a group of actors and an actress came to the school to perform a very interesting play about people travelling across the desert. Our thanks to the English department for bringing them up here.

On Thursday, the Norwood juniors and seniors were at the school. The girls in seniors played a very good game despite a loss. The score was 30 to 28 for Norwood. High scorer for Haliburton was Allison English. The juniors came up with a win which will send them to the finals against Campbellford. The score was Norwood 40, Haliburton 50. Our congratulations go to the junior girls and GOOD LUCK!

Gems of Truth

the Lord Jesus Christ His proper place and His proper credentials as Saviour, leaves men and women floundering in their sins in spite of all religious pretences.

By His crucial question about Messiah as David's Son and Lord, Jesus truly touched the problem of His Humanity and His Deity. Perhaps the Pharisees had never been confronted with this problem before. Multitudes today have never come to grips with this all important issue of the true identity of our Saviour the Lord Jesus Christ. Rightfully recognized, it becomes the "stop" to all false teachers. Jesus put His finger on the proper issue to silence all opposition, thus we read in verse 46 of Matt. 22, "and no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions."

The Christ, being David's son and also David's Lord, reveals the fact that Jesus is both human and Divine. The Gospel narratives give the account of a human life lived in a human body. It is thus that Jesus was born, grew, hungered, thirsted, was wearied, suffered and died. But in all this there was something supernatural about Him all through His earthly life, His Deity shines forth in all His doings.

In a true evaluation of who Jesus really is, comes the great problem of "human sin" and a true remedy for it. Adam had plunged the whole human race into sin and death. Jew and Gentile alike are guilty before a holy God. How could God righteously deal with sin in man? There were two ways open to Him. He could either destroy this man and sin together, or provide a substitute to save him. Scripture gives us the fact that God chose the latter course. He provided a substitute who would take the place of man's guilt and save man from his sin. Such a Saviour, however, must have certain God approved qualifications. Just what were the essential qualifications for Saviourhood?

The first one was that He must be a man. By man (Adam) came death, and only a man can save men from sin and death. Rom. 5:12, 1 Cor. 15:21. This is basically why the Lord Jesus Christ became a man in order to redeem. Gal. 4:4-5. Secondly, He must be a "sinless" man. None but a "sinless" man could "put away sin." Jesus the Saviour was that man! 11 Cor. 5:21, 1 Peter 2:22, 1 John 3:5. But how could man born of a woman be sinless? It is very evident that such a one "could not" be a child of Adam. Why not? Simply because in Adam (all his offspring) all sinned and all die. Rom. 5:12, 1 Cor. 15:22. The Saviour cannot be partaker of human sin and must not be under the power of death. He cannot, therefore, be a child of Adam. This is why the all-important question of the "Virgin Birth" of a true Substitute needs to be pondered anew in our day of apostasy. The Lord Jesus was not a child of Adam. The Virgin cradled a unique Child and one free from the common taint of mankind, and from the power of death. Luke 1:26-35. The reason that the Virgin Birth of Christ is so much disputed and denied today is because the days of apostasy are upon us. Apostasy simply means "a turning away from truth, and it is pronounced in Scripture as a sign of the last days of the Church Age." 1 John 4:1-3, Phil. 3:18, 2 Peter 2:1.

The Word of God

of the present day, in the matter of Israel's land possession is of no avail. All of the promises of land initially given through Abraham were fulfilled early in the history of the nation. Due to their unfaithfulness, God removed them from the land into captivity. The prophets spoke of a return and the foregoing passages illustrate that the same was fulfilled in their return under Zerubbabel, Ezra and Nehemiah. That which has been fulfilled seeks no further fulfillment. Let me bring this study of the land situation to a close with a further quote from Mr. Homer Hailey regarding the Old Testament land promises: "Thus we have the story of God's dealing with Israel. He had promised them that they would return, and they did return. He gave them the land, and made a conditional promise to them of his continued blessing and protection. The condition was that they keep his commandments. They did not keep his commandments, so he permitted them to go into captivity. But promised that a remnant should return. The record is very clear. God has done for Israel all that he ever promised to do. He gave them the land; he gave them the law; he drove out their enemies from before them. And he even brought them back from their captivity into which they had gone because of their own sin. What more could God do for Israel than what he did do? Does this not give some idea as to why the Bible is silent for the four hundred years between Malachi and Christ? There was nothing more to be said. The only thing God had left to offer them was the Messiah. Every other promise had been fulfilled." (Vanguard Magazine, Vol. 1, No. 10).

Next week we will look at the Great Blessing promise that was given to Abraham and his descendants. See you then.
